NEW JUNIOR COLLEGE BUILDINGS TO BE COMPLETED BY THANKSGIVING

Courtesy Salinas-Index Journal and Post

Although the new Salinas Junior College building on Homestead will not be ready for occupancy when school opens today, it is expected that the project, pictured above, will be completed by the Thanksgiving holidays, instead of the Christmas holidays, as previously planned.

Complete New Equipment To Be Installed In New J. C.

In about two or three years people will cast their eyes on the Salinas Junior College buildings and reflect back to the times when the Junior College only consisted of a dozen or more rooms. But now, look at its immense buildings, fully equipped to the last detail, and a faculty of which any university or college would be very proud in possessing on its roster.

According to recent information from the proper authorities, it has been revealed that the new junior college building will be finished by the Thanksgiving holidays, instead of the Christmas holidays. The number of workmen and hours have been doubled on the job, thus accounting for the earlier finish of the building.

At this new home it will be a separate institution with all the advantages of such isolation from the high school. Grounds, buildings, facilities, etc., will be strictly junior college. There are, however, three exceptions to the separation of the facilities of the junior college and high school; namely, music, agriculture and home economics.

SPECIAL NOTICE

It is desired that all Salinas Junior College men and women will kindly regard the bulletin board as an information booth, and will use it as such. Also it would be very pleasing to all concerned if all members of the junior college would refrain from trying out their artistic ability on any notices posted on the bulletin board.

Notices about student affairs shall not be placed on the bulletin board unless properly authorized by the president of the Salinas Junior College.

Your cooperation will be well appreciated if these rules are carried out to the fullest extent.

NYA NOTICE

All students applying for NYA jobs will regard the notices posted on the bulletin board referring to this matter.

All the rules and regulations and qualifications for application are stated on the bulletin board. There are only a limited number of students allowed to apply for the NYA, and it would be appreciated if those only desiring the immediate needs of aid would apply, instead of just students who figure that they would like to make a little extra money for their pleasure expenses.

After obtaining a NYA position it is being asked that all students will give their full cooperation to their job.

THE BATTERY WELCOMES YOU

One and all, new and old, the Jaysee Battery takes pleasure in welcoming you to the vast portals of the Salinas Junior College, and hope that you will take advantage of this means of attaining a higher education.

We especially welcome the freshmen, as it is a new and higher step toward the goal to which they are striving.

For the new Dionne baby there's one grain of comfort. Not many boys will have his opportunity of shaking down big sisters' five young men.

LEMOS WELCOMES NEW STUDENTS

Once again the Salinas Junior College extends a hand of welcome to the incoming students. We hope you enjoy your stay with us to the fullest extent.

You have come to the Salinas Junior College realizing its high scholastic standards; you have come to the Salinas Junior College to prepare yourself for your own way in the world, and in doing this it is for you and your successors to maintain those scholastic standards which have been so ably held by your predecessors. Begin now to choose your course wisely, to seek often the counsel of your faculty advisors, to give earnest attention to class requirements and you will all the sooner attain your goal.

Salinas holds a high place in the annals of sports. She has been producing championship teams yearly and we hope will continue to do so, but it is only through the cooperation of her students that this can be accomplished.

The Men's Club of the Salinas Junior College and Upsilon Gamma Chi (the women's club) invite you to join their ranks and to share in their activities.

Again we extend a hearty welcome to you and a cordial invitation to participate in those activities which have been placed at your disposal. We place our trust in each one of you to uphold the ideals of the Salinas Junior College and to become a vital factor in the life of the school.

Remember — you are College Men and College Women. Accept this place and regard the older members of the student body, its officers, and the members of the faculty as your friends.

EDITORIAL

Webster defines Goodwill, in part, as: "the value a business has over and above stock-in-trade."

A better definition, I think, was handed down by the Supreme Court of the United States when it said of Goodwill: "the disposition of a pleased customer to return to the place where he has been well treated." Thus, let us think of the Salinas Junior College as a Goodwill institute.

You cannot "inventory" Goodwill; it is an invisible asset but nevertheless a very important asset to any individual or to any business.

An individual without the Goodwill of those with whom he comes in contact is one to be avoided; a school without the Goodwill of its students cannot stand; both are doomed to dismal failure.

The degree of one's success in life is measured by the amount of Goodwill one accumulates. By success I do not mean financial success. A man through inheritance and natural increases in values, or by discovery or invention or by unscrupulous methods, may attain great wealth and yet be a poor man indeed if he has not the Goodwill of his fellowmen.

The Goodwill of our junior college has many ramifications. The personnel, character and actions of its faculty and the manner in which they handle their department, as viewed by the students by contact, create Goodwill or its opposite. The Goodwill created by the faculty in this community is very important to the organization as a whole. Even when it is necessary to press a stiff assignment it should be done in a clean, upright and business-like manner to the end that when an assignment is filled there be no "bad taste in anyone's mouth." Goodwill is something to be sought after.

Our students, generally speaking, in the past, are "good mixers," which means that they create Goodwill for themselves. Fine, but let us give some of our effort toward creating general Goodwill for our organization as a whole. Be a lifter.

NEW FACES IN THE HALLS

The changes in the faculty in the junior college include:

L. K. Amyx, who will be a half-time faculty member. For the past five years he has taught art in the Central Grammar School in Salinas. There he did some outstanding work, his pupils taking many prizes in the county and in the State Fair. He has also been an exhibitor in the professional exhibits in Oakland and San Francisco, there showing his own productions. He is a graduate of San Jose State College.

Miss Jean McKay, who has her Bachelor's and Master's degrees from the University of California, will teach biology, botany and zoology. She has a background of rich experience, having taught in the Oakland high schools and in San Francisco State Teacher's College, where she held a contract until she resigned to come to Salinas Junior College.

Miss Gertrude Lowe is the new vocal music teacher in the junior college for this year. Her experience was secured in San Rafael, Mendocino, and Ceres high schools, where she made some enviable records, handling not only the vocal but also the instrumental programs of those schools. She is a graduate of Modesto Junior College, University of California, and the American Conservatory of Chicago.

ALUMNI NEWS

The activities of some of the graduates of the Salinas Junior College class of 1936 for the ensuing year will, without a doubt, run thus:

Dewitt Blamer, University of California; Charles Carpenter, San Jose State; Warren Cottrell, Junior College; Charles Ellsburg, University of California; Helen Fontes, to be married; Bob Gottlieb, Loyola University in New Orleans; Ted Gottlieb, University of California; Edith Gunn, telephone operator; John Harris, University of California at Los Angeles; Stan Parker, Stanford University; Jim Thorup, Southern Methodist; Lois Wells, University of California; Irene Silva, San Jose State.

Brief report made by the policeman whose horse bolted and escaped from the mountie: Mutiny on the mountie.

Better to wink than to stare, says a scientist. That's dangerous advice to give girls during leap year.

Things certainly have changed. Scientists now reveal ants live riotously, and western farmers are learning that grasshoppers are not exactly shiftless.

MY! MY! AREN'T WE DUMB?

One of the first things that comes to our minds when we are asked if we are going to attend junior college is—What has the junior college to offer us; that is, besides a lot of drudgery?

We are quite in the wrong when we take such an attitude as this, as the Salinas Junior College has quite a program in store for us.

Besides the well-arranged and extensive curriculm it offers for our benefit a faculty of well-trained individuals; a student body governed by the students who are 100% representative; student organizations—the Men's Club and the Upsilon Gamma Chi (women's club), where good times can be had by all; school publications — the Jaysee Battery, the college weekly paper, and the college annual, the La Reata; a book store completely furnished with the needs of the student; an athletic department "par excellence" where those interested in sports become more closely-knitted friends through contact; then there are the Ribbonero and Whiskerino contests prior to and through the final exams, the Jaysee plays, and last but not least the Junior College Prom.

When you really come down to brass tacks you say to yourself—"That was a foolish question to be asking, wasn't it"

We wonder if the majority of the Jaysee men will go out for athletics.

We also wonder if all the Jaysee women will be going out for athletics.

We shall miss "Beetle" Kroopnick and his shadow, Stan Parker and Doreta White, and Swede Ellsburg and Beth Falkenburg, those poor unfortunate individuals who were very seriously innoculated by the "love bug."

However we will still have our Don Juans and Casanovas cluttering up the hallways with their demurring young Shebas and Cleopatras.

SALINAS RODEO AT ITS BEST

The Salinas Rodeo of 1936 turned out to be the best show ever put on by the rodeo association. It has in the past few years worked itself up to and on the par with the Pendelton Roundup of Oregon and the Cheyenne Rodeo of Wyoming.

The Salinas rodeo surpassed all shows in the awarding of cash prizes, and put on a variety show that would have made the late Florenz Ziegfeld feel like the owner of a string of nickleodeons.

The horse show was an excellent display of the finest cattle and stock ever to be shown before a rodeo crowd. And the comedy was the tops, featuring that well-known cowboy comedian, Homer Holcolmb. The broncs and steers were worse than a bad case of sinus.

The only disappointing feature of the "Big Week" was the evenings. This fair city reminded one of the old saloon days, when the men did all the drinking and the women stayed at home patiently waiting for her dear husband—with with the rolling pin!

Jack Iverson Passes Away

One of the best friends of the students of the Salinas Junior College, and one of the fathers of this school was called to rest during the early part of July, after a short illness, in a San Francisco hospital.

Although he is not here physically, he shall remain in our memories as a "regular fellow" Jack, as he was called by his dearest friends, was a member of the high school and junior college school board for quite a few years, after which he took over the duties for Uncle Sam — Postmaster of the Salinas post office.

We wish to take the privilege of honoring him, by saying that he was the best friend the Salinas Junior College ever had.

FORMER BATTERY ED. TAKES FALL

It is with a great deal of pleasure that we announce, last but not least, the engagement of our former Battery editor, Pinky McLeod, to Howard Fitzimmons, of Pacific Grove.

We shall miss 'Pinky" this next year, as she was a very diligent worker and a go-getter, when it came to gathering news for the Battery, Although we are losing one of the best journalists ever to attend the Salinas Junior College, we still have the memory of one of the finest characters to ever deck the halls and desk in the Battery office. However, good luck, "Pinky."

WHAT, NO BEEF?

The Salinas Junior College football team is on its way to one of the most devastating and brilliant seasons in the annals of the school, under the direction of Coach Powers.

The Notre Dame system will be the style of play used, and while the squad lowers the boom on the scales at the hefty team average of 194 ponds, all are fast enough to make the old Rockne mode of manufacturing touchdowns click in proper style.

This is the first year that a Salinas Junior College football coach has had a free hand, with no strings attached or any playing of second fiddles to the high school, and by all indications Powers will lead his team into glories untold. The 1936 football team is not bragging when they state they are going to bring home the bacon in the conference this year. They merely want to make up for the ground lost on last year's squad. Also to build up a reputation and a foundation in sports for the Salinas Junior College in the future.

JAYSEE ALUMNI OLYMPIC STAR

The Salinas Junior College is indeed proud of the fact that one of their alumni was fortunate enough to make the squad of the United States Olympic Team to Berlin this summer. This Olympic team member is none other than Martha Woorst, a javelin thrower of note.

She qualified in the tryouts for the Olympic team, but was unfortunate in getting beaten out of any possible scoring position in Berlin. We wish to bolster her up by saying that she was in the stiffest competition ever to be gathered in one place in the world, and that she has a good chance for recognition in the next Olympiad.

P. G. WOMAN WINS SPROLES CONTEST

Mrs. Mildred Claunch of Pacific Grove, a former educator, was very fortunate indeed when she decided to enter the Harris Sproles Contest, as she emerged the winner of a $50.00 Gruen watch, for her prize essay on "The Advantages Offered High School Students by the Salinas Junior College."

Mrs. Claunch had evidently made a thorough and complete study of the school systems of this district, as she very definitely stated facts that were of great importance in the functioning of the Salinas Junior College.

Mrs. Claunch has traveled from Florida to Canada, from Mexico to Washington and had quite an opportunity of studying the different types of school systems and their advantages More power to you Mrs. Claunch.

Mr. Harris Sproles, the well-known local peweler, has offered another prize Gruen to the person writing the best essay (100 words or less) on "Who I Voted For, and Why." This contest is to be conducted over station KDON, Monterey and Del Monte.

J. C. ENROLLMENT SETS NEW RECORD

Expectations of school officials that enrollment in the Salinas Junior College this year would surpass all records, was a reality Tuesday as second-day registrations were totaled by J. B. Lemos, the junior college president, here Tuesday afternoon, this figure representing an increase of quite a percentage over last year's beginning sign-up.

Because there are two holidays next week, it is thought likelv that there are a large number of students staving out of school until after these holidays are completed, and that enrollment figures will mount still higher after that time.

Lemos reported that the junior college had registered more than 200 students on Monday and Tuesday and that better than 100 more will sign up in the next few days. It was also reported that more registered during the first day than have ever signed up during a whole year, in the past.

COACH POWERS RELEASES ATHLETIC PLANS FOR THE ENSUING SCHOOL YEAR 1936-37

U. S. WINS OLYMPIC TRACK, SWIMMING

Owens Proves Individual Hero

All that is left of the 11th Olympiad is the empty brazier where burned the torch, that was symbolic of the brilliant pageantry and the blazing competition. Berlin and the rest of the world has settled down to work after the sixteen days of human emotion incited by human endeavors.

Although the United States lost the Olympics to Germany she managed to cop 12 championships in the track and field, four out of eight titles in the men's swimming, and the women's title in swimming. Other points gathered for the United States were obtained in the rowing, boxing, wrestling, weightlifting, basketball (in which the U. S. took the title), and the first three places in the pentathlon.

A complete tabulation of the points scored by the individual teams for the 119 events were as follows:

Germany 580 3/4; United States 470 5/6; Italy 186 13/22; Sweden 167 1/11; Hungary 158 2/11; Japan 153 13/22; France 152 9/10; Finland 145 1/4; Holland 136 1/30; Great Britain 115 1/11. All other countries scored less than 100 points.

Germany won 29 gold medals, 5 silver, and 24 bronze to the United States 24 gold medals, 20 silver, and 12 bronze. No other country was close enough to classify in the medal honors.

Jesse Owens the Ohio State star scored a triple win for the United States, by winning the broad jump at 26 feet, 5 21/64 inches, the 100 meters in the world's record time of 10.2 seconds, won the 200 meters in world record time of 21.1 seconds, and ran the initial lap of the 400 meters relay, in which the United States team set a world and Olympic record of 39.8 seconds.

The University of Washington's crew, with its whirlwind finish in the last quarter mile of the race, made the throng gasp for breath as they put their beat up. And up it went to 36-38-40-and finally, a heartstopping 42.

Tennis, Basketball To Have New Stars

AT THE NET

Salinas Junior College's tennis is considerably brighter this year than last (and last year the team won the Conference Championship). Ayers, Pence, Draper and Lee of last year's team are back again in better form than ever. In addition, there may be some tennis "sharks" from the city of Santa Cruz, which is noted for its experts

Two newcomers are certain to attend our honorable institution this year—Stan Noyes of Alameda and Norbert Teak, who hails from St. Louis. The former is clay-court champion of the bay district and will probably occupy the No. 1 position on the ladder. The latter is not so well known, but promises to give a good account of himself on the court.

With the prospect of having both a spring and fall tennis schedule this year, the Jaysee racqueteers may be able to avenge some of the defeats that they suffered last year at the hands of the "big shot" colleges in the bay district.

BASKETBALL

The basketball season is a well-rounded schedule of thirty-four games, to be played with some of the best basketball teams in northern California.

Basketball season will get an earlier start from that of last year, and will without a doubt continue a little longer in the season than the previous year.

Last year's season consisted of thirty-one games, of which the Salinas Junior College won sixteen games and lost fifteen, and amassing a total of 1090 points to their opponents 1020. They took second place in the conference only through a freak, and will be out with fire in their eyes this year.

I hope his doctors can keep him alive until next summer.—Max Schmelling, discussing Jimmy Braddock's ailments which resulteed in the postponment of their match.

CHAMPIONS

The Salinas Junior College is very proud of its athletic department for the fact that it possessed two conference championship teams—Track and Tennis. This being the tennis team's first year of competition.

Some of the champions of last year's teams were the following: Jim Thorup, star tackle in football and a good shotputter; Charlie Clark, one of the best Jaysee punters in the state, and steady guard in basketball; Mel Slade, tricky back in football, and speed burner in track; Bill Lee, midget all-conference basketball ace, and member of championship tennis team; Howard Pence, another outstanding tennis star and champion.

Although the champion's list is small this year, there is hope of more than doubling it within the next year of conference competition. The material for all competitive sports are excellent, and there are great expectations for championship teams in all of the sports this year.

Football Prospects Look Brilliant

Coach Powers held the first football practice Monday for his squad, and while all the candidates were not on hand, glimpse of some of his prospects indicates that the local Jaysee is about to move into big time competition.

For instance, theres Micky Woods, a hard-hitting 210 pound fullback from San Bernardino high where he has won all southern California honors.

There's Jack Javens, who was selected for all-star honors two years in a row at Torrance high. Javens is a 190-pound halfback.

Norbert Teak, St. Louis, Missouri high school all-star, 165-pound halfback.

Jack Kynpton, a 185-pound blocking back, also from St. Louis.

Stan Noyes, two-year O. A. L. halfback and one of the best prospects in the east bay district.

Gerald Woelfell, a 226-pound tackle from St. Mary's high in Stockton.

Al Alexander, a 205-pounder who was a star on the U. S. C. frosh last year.

Bill Thompson, a 185-pound all-state halfback from Shoshone, Idaho.

Besides this great host of players, Coach Powers is blessed with quite a few of last year's lettermen, such as: Cliff Campbell, Don Hall, Mel Slade, Dave Boyd, Harold Mocettini, and quite a few who have not registered yet.

Jesse Owens' mother said her boy never ran away from a problem. Which is a lesson to others, since nobody could outdistance one if Jesse couldn't.

Rules In Athletics Are Set Down By Lemos and Powers

Football has been put on an altogether different basis from that of the last season. Coach Powers has made a careful selection of talent, stressing scholastic achievement as well as athletic ability, to avoid recurrence of disciplinary measures which were levied last year.

Coach Powers has impressed upon his charges the fact that the high scholastic standards of the junior college must be upheld. The students have also been impressed with the fact that athletics are and should be be extra-curricula and to be participated in for the purpose for which they are in attendance are educational rather than recreational.

In each instance the boys have been questioned as to moral standards and in each case the boys have agreed to abide strictly by the training rules, which are briefly:

1. Complete physical examination before the season and at regular intervals during the year.
2. Absolute abstinance of intoxicating liquors and tobaccos.
3. All social activities must terminate at 11:30 p.m.
4. A diet consisting of substantial foods as outlined for individual cases.
5. Regular attendance to all practice sessions, which will be from 2 to 4 p.m. daily, and all games unless officially excused.
6. Strict adherence to the A.A.U. rules and the Sportsmanship code.

Additional equipment has been purchased which will ably take care of a squad of thirty men. The equipment represents a substantial investment of the student body and has been carefully selected as to quality and stability.

A supply of programs, posters, wnidshield stickers, etc., has been purchased for distribtuion to the students and merchants.

The football team and student body is making an earnest plea for whole-hearted and continuous support throughout the school year. REMEMBER, THIS IS YOUR TEAM!! It looks like a good team, and one of which you should feel justly proud to refer as My TEAM. They may not win all their games but they will more than hold their own with the best of them.

FIRST STUDENT BODY MEETING

Clifford Campbell, the new elected Jaysee student body president, wishes to call the attention to all students that the first student body meeting will be held on September 16th.

While waiting for this meeting he wishes that all concerned would be looking and thinking over whom they want for their yell leader for the ensuing year of 1936-37. A yell leader is a very important factor in the makeup of an institution of learning that maintains such fine athletic teams, as does, the Salinas Junior College.
